JANE HOWLETT QUITS CABINET

Tasmanian cabinet minister, Jane Howlett, has made the “incredibly difficult” decision to resign from her portfolios after her brother died last week.

Jane Howlett made the shock announcement on Friday, saying it was the right thing to do for her family.

“Being a minister is an incredible honour and privilege which deserves and requires a 100 per cent commitment which I simply cannot provide at this time,” the Liberal politician said.

“This was an incredibly difficult decision to make, but the correct one for my family and myself.

“This has been a very challenging time and now it is time for me to return that support to (my family).”

Ms Howlett, who was the Minister for Racing, Women, Small Business, Hospitality and Events and Disability Services, said she planned to remain in parliament as a backbencher, and in the Legislative Council as the Liberal member for Prosser.

Ms Howlett's portfolios will now need to be distributed and a backbencher promoted, but Mr Gutwein said there would be no wholesale changes to cabinet as a result, to be announced next week.

AUTUMN OUTLOOK LA NIÑA WANES WHILE AUSTRALIA FACES POTENTIALLY A WETTER THAN AVERAGE AUTUMN

Autumn days are likely to be wetter and warmer than normal for much of Australia.

The Bureau of Meteorology's Autumn Climate Outlook for 2022 has been released, and details the predicted climate and water conditions for the coming season.

Above-average autumn rainfall is likely for most areas of Australia, except the south-west and north-east.

Autumn is likely to be wetter than normal for much of Queensland and scattered areas of south-eastern Australia, including areas already impacted by summer floods.

While La Niña has led to increased rain in eastern and northern Australia, observations and climate models suggest it is likely at or past its peak and expected to end in mid-autumn 2022.

Autumn days are likely to be warmer than normal for much of the northern half of Australia, coastal Western Australia, and parts of south-eastern Australia, while a small area of eastern New South Wales will likely be cooler than normal.

Across Australia, night-time temperatures are predicted to be higher than normal.

Australia's severe weather season runs from October to April, meaning autumn remains a higher-risk period for storms, fires, floods and tropical cyclones.

Dry conditions in Western Australia mean bushfire risk will remain raised during autumn, while areas of eastern Australia that have been wet in recent months will have below-average fire risk.

There have been five tropical cyclones in the Australian region since the start of the tropical cyclone season in November, including four over the summer. February to March is usually the peak of the tropical cyclone season. With warm waters around northern Australia, further tropical cyclone development remains likely for autumn.

For more details on this and other climate outlooks and summaries, visit the Bureau's website: www.bom.gov.au/climate

FINAL COVID JAB FOR SWANSEA CLINIC

The final Covid community clinic was held on Sunday by the Swansea General Practice. The May Shaw's rotunda was utilized to ensure minimal disruption and possible infection to the May Shaw residents.

Nurses on site indicated that it would be the last planned community clinic for administering the Covid vaccine. Appointments for the free clinics would have to be made in Hobart or Launceston or those advertised.

Helpful Hints....

BE BURNS AWARE.... This includes sunburn

Cool Cool the burn under cool running water for at least 20 minutes (Until heat is gone) - Consider immersion or wet cooling towel, if water is not available use a hydrogel. Store aloe vera and sunburn products in the fridge for greater relief (Sprays are easier to apply as, you won't have to touch the affected area) Keep hydrated.

Do not use ice, butter, toothpaste, creams, or ointments as these may make the burn worse.

Cover For minor burns cover with a hydrogel, such as Burnaid or solosite gel, to help relieve the pain - Cover with a clean non-stick dressing

JACK JUMPERS ARE JUMPING.... and other biting insects

Cool Wash the affected area well and soothe the pain with Stingose or ice. Take an antihistamine for the itch.

Watch For any allergic reaction.

DERMATITIS AND HOT WEATHER....

To help reduce itching and soothe inflamed skin, try these self-care approaches: Apply an anti-itch cream to the area. 2- Apply cool, wet compresses. 3- Avoid scratching - wear cotton gloves. If rubber or gardening glove related, powder inside of gloves with Curash powder to reduce sweaty hands and irritation.

HEARING LIVED EXPERIENCE SURVEY 2022

The Tasmanian Government is developing a third Family and Sexual Violence Action Plan. We are listening to the voices of victim-survivors.

“My name is Mary Knowles and I am a survivor of family and sexual violence.

I had to change my name and the names of my children, cut ties with my family and friends and move to Tasmania - just to stay alive.

Family and sexual violence can have lasting impacts, affecting physical and mental health and decisions we make every day.

If you're aged 18 years or over, please share your story to help ensure we have the systems, services and culture in place to end the violence.

We all have the right to feel safe.”

To complete the survey, scan the QR code or visit www.safefromviolence.tas.gov.au

WHAT'S SO FUNNY?

At school, Little Johnny's classmate tells him that most adults are hiding at least one dark secret, so it's very easy to blackmail them by saying, "I know the whole truth." Little Johnny decides to go home and try it out.

Johnny's mother greets him at home, and he tells her, "I know the whole truth." His mother quickly hands him $20 and says, "Just don't tell your father." Quite pleased, the boy waits for his father to get home from work, and greets him with, "I know the whole truth." The father promptly hands him $40 and says, "Please don't say a word to your mother."

Very pleased, the boy is on his way to school the next day when he sees the mailman at his front door. The boy greets him by saying, "I know the whole truth." The mailman immediately drops the mail, opens his arms, and says, "Then come give your Daddy a great big hug!"
