WATER SALES SWAN IRRIGATION SCHEME

The sale of water entitlements in the SWAN scheme has commenced with the sales process beginning on 2 March. The sales period was launched at a meeting of interested landholders in the Swansea Town Hall and will run for 29 days closing at 2.00 pm on 31 March 2015.

In this initial stage of the entitlement sales process, water has been made available to only owners and occupiers of land in the proposed irrigation district. The district encompasses the general Swansea area, stretching from the south of Swansea to just north of the Coombend property and includes areas around the Cranbrook village and along the western shore of Moulting Lagoon. A map of the scheme can be downloaded from this website. tasmanian.rrigation.com.au

Water is available for purchase in the SWAN scheme at $1,500/ per megalitre (ML) with a minimum purchase volume of 10ML required and thereafter in increments of 5ML. An application to purchase water will need to be completed and a deposit is required to accompany the completed application. The deposit will be either a 10% or 25% deposit.

If an application is accepted the payment of a 10% deposit will form a binding commitment to complete the contract and will consist of a 2% deposit on submission of the application. A further 8% will be required when notification of a public funding commitment to SWAN is made. The balance, 90% will be due 28 days after notification of the commissioning of the scheme. The earliest commissioning is likely to occur is October 2016.

A 25% non refundable deposit option is also available with the purchaser having the opportunity to decide to not complete the contract. The remaining 75% value of the purchase would be due following completion. If the applicant decided to not complete the contract the 25% deposit would be forfeited and no entitlements would be issued.

If for some reason the scheme did not progress or a connection application could not be satisfied then deposits made by the applicant would be refunded.

For further information on the sale of water entitlements, please contact the Project Manager; Ian Herbert on 0400 006 095 or ian.herbert@tasirrigation.com.au

Scheme History

The Swan Valley region on Tasmania's east-coast is a mixed farming area with grazing, irrigated cropping, grape and walnut production the predominate agricultural enterprises. The region has developed as a significant wine production area and offers outstanding prospects for further wine industry developments and other perennial horticultural enterprises. The area however, has a consistent mild dry climate and without irrigation water, development has stymied. A source of high surety water needs to be secured to attract investment and further encourage high value enterprises into the region. This water source will also help to maximise the production from existing enterprises.

A survey of the majority of landholders between Bicheno and Little Swanport was conducted late 2012 and concluded in February 2013. The survey showed interest from 20 landowners in acquiring 1920ML of water from a scheme in the district. The survey information was used along with desktop studies to formulate a scheme design which formed the basis of the preferred option document.

The scheme's preferred option was launched by Primary Industries and Water Minister Jeremy Rockliff on 29 August, 2014 to a packed Swansea Town Hall. A public comment process was held and feedback was used in the development of a business case for the scheme.

A word from Nora Dalla-Vecchia

Last Saturday evening All Saints Anglican Church came alive to the sound of music where a group of very enthusiastic local musicians came together to present a concert to focus attention on the church and its restoration.

A young confident 12 year old EMILY QUINN entertained us playing guitar and singing, with two of the tunes written by herself. Surely a rising star. I'm sure we will see more of Emily's talent in future.

STUFFIT, our lively ukulele group, soon had feet tapping and hands clapping. This multi-talented band, consisting of two women and six men, filled us with enthusiasm and excitement.

STEVE KENNY followed, well known for his guitar and singing around different venues over the years. Also the songwriter, artist, and arranger, sang some sentimental ballads and had us singing along to a latest hit tune.

FROGMOUTH concluded the evening with Janelle Hall and Julie Sulcs leading the vocals with rousing songs ably supported by Jenny Kay and Sandy Shaw leaving us on a high note.

We then proceeded to the church hall where we enjoyed a lovely supper provided by the church ladies and mingled with goodwill and friendship. Sixty five people spent an enjoyable evening and $575 was raised towards the restoration fund.

Footnote If you have never been inside this lovely church or haven't been for sometime, pop in and admire the beautiful stained glass windows and read the names of the pioneers who were responsible for building the church and helping towards the development of our district.

Thank you Nora for your thoughts on the evening and a big THANK YOU to all the musicians for providing your time, energy and enthusiasm and also to MC, David Lathwell, from the All Saints Restoration Committee.

The business case for the scheme was approved by the Tasmanian Government in January 2015 and presents a compelling case for the use of public funds in conjunction with private capital to finance the project.

Project Summary

The 2,000 ML scheme being developed would pump water from the Swan River in periods of higher river flows and store it in a dam adjacent to the river, close to the township of Cranbrook on the Melrose property. This stored water would then be delivered to participating landholders through a delivery network of pipes during the summer irrigation season. The irrigation water delivered would be at a surety level of greater than 95 per cent. The irrigation season will nominally run from 1 September to January 31 each year.

For the project to continue to progress to construction a successful sale of water entitlements will need to have been conducted, all appropriate permits and approvals acquired and a construction contract secured within the allocated budget. Once constructed a period of scheme commissioning will follow and when completed will mean the scheme is operable. Once the scheme is opened a local committee of entitlement holders will continue to work in conjunction with Tasmanian Irrigation to ensure the scheme is operated in a manner which delivers maximum benefit to the local community whilst ensuring all permit and licence conditions are adhered to.

10 Days brings 2 Events

We are lucky this year as the 10 Days Festival is bringing 2 events to Swansea – Swamp Juice and the Alzheimer Symphony. They will be staged at the Swansea Town Hall. Tickets are available from Bear Crafts or at the door.

Swamp Juice - 7pm Thursday 26 March

Swamp Juice is a playful puppet experience for all ages. A delightful and simple story about one man's romp through a swamp and the characters he finds: a pair of bickering snails, a mouse teasing a snake and a bird feeding its chick. The action builds until the cast leap off the stage and the audience is immersed in the action; shadows zip around the walls and ceiling, exploding in an unforgettable 3D experience.

Swamp Juice is the second production from acclaimed performer, Jeff Achtem (Bunk Puppets). With recycled materials, Jeff creates intricate and funny stories using shadow puppetry performed in front of the screen, giving the audience a peek at how each silhouette is made.

Tickets: Adults .....	$25
Children .....	$10
Family of 4.....	$55
Concession / Member.....	$20

Alzheimer Symphony – 7:30 pm Saturday 28 March

During a performance of Shakespeare's King Lear, a renowned elderly actor forgets his lines. This is the beginning of his journey into the long twilight that is Alzheimer's. As his memory fades, occurrences that would once have been shocking – such as finding a sock in his soup – are no longer questioned. His reduced living space is modified with numerous contraptions to meet his needs: pop up kitchen, shower, sports field and library. Although valiantly fighting, he succumbs to his fate and as thought slips away, feelings grow stronger and his inner child is revived.

Performed by acclaimed Tasmanian artist Justus Neumann, this poignant work is punctuated by moments of genuine light-heartedness and humour that will take the audience on a rewarding and insightful emotional journey.

Swansea Golf Club Report Saturday 7th March

Winner Shane Wright with Ray Dart

Thirty seven members and visitors competed in a stroke event sponsored by Ray and Beryl Dart. Weather conditions were most favourable and some good scores were recorded by the leading contenders. The ladies' competition was won by Lyn Read with 77 off the stick and 60 net. Runner up was the consistent Pat Hardcastle with a net 63. Visitor Shane Wright won the men's event with 65 gross and 57 net with Paul Rainbird 72/61 filling second position on a count back from Ricky Wright, Stephen Griggs and Jim Morris. Nearest to the pin winners were Lyn Read, Sally Siepen, Shane Wright and Ricky Dance. Ray was on hand to present the prizes to the top performers and all those present expressed their appreciation and acknowledged the generous sponsorship from Ray and Beryl. "Ray's Day" was a great day!
