MEREDITH BRIDGE BACK IN PLAY....

A revised bridge plan, a newly proposed development and renewed enthusiasm by the community has seen the Meredith River footbridge take a massive step forward in the last months.

The linkage between Swansea and Dolphin Sands paves the way for a resurgence of the Swansea Township and creates the opportunity for an array of new business opportunities, along with an exciting piece of infrastructure for the area.

The idea seemed relatively well received when re-presented to the Glamorgan Spring Bay Council on July 12th.

"Outside of the financial constraints Council currently have, the opportunity exists for a project that can bond the communities of Swansea and Dolphin Sands and enhance those areas ten-fold. Such environmentally sensitive, quality infrastructure that provides opportunities for both tourists and the local community is fabulous", Dolphin Sands Community Association secretary, Robyn Moore said.

"While many municipalities are focussing on mountain bike tracks, a flat scenic ride may be accessible to many more, including less enthusiastic bike riders".

The opportunity arrived when now locally based development company, Red Panda Property Group, took a redevelopment application for a new subdivision for north Swansea.

The 101-lot subdivision, new supermarket area and retirement village and high dependency aged care centre, comes off the back of the failed Tempus proposal, which was knocked back by the Tasmanian Planning Commission earlier this year.

"It has all sort of fallen into place in the most uncanny way. We presented the subdivision to Council, were highlighted to the previous bridge matter, and then Tempus was rejected due to its location. The planets aligned to this site on every front!", said Red Panda Director and CEO, Andrew McCullagh.

"A major sticking point ultimately will be funding, but our company will be including some aspects in our retirement village proposal, along with raising monies from the community, and looking at community grants. We will also be discussing matters with the Cambria Green proponents and how they may assist".

"The idea of the community healing some old wounds along the way, and combining as one for such a terrific community outcome, would be the most pleasing aspect. One of our design principles is connecting what was divided, and I think that is applicable for many aspects of this proposal".

Final reports are being obtained, and they will be lodged with Council and placed out for community consultation in the months ahead.

"The reports and plans are the easy part. Our focus is now on fundraising and establishing a community initiative to facilitate this".

WITH A PLAN FOR ACTION, WE CAN END HOMELESSNESS

Homelessness Week is taking place from 1st -7th August this year, and across the country, in towns and cities, individuals and families will sleep in garages, cars, or on a mattress on the floor with their friends or family.

Everyone has the right to a safe place to call home. But skyrocketing rents put safe and stable accommodation out of reach for more and more people. Regional rents are now 18 per cent higher than they were before the COVID-19 pandemic, while rents in capital cities have increased 14.7 per cent over the past 12 months.

This is changing the face of homelessness. Many people who are in work, and have a history of secure housing, now find themselves struggling to pay rent or find affordable rentals.

At Mission Australia we welcome the Federal Government's focus on housing and homelessness. Their commitment to invest in 30,000 new social and affordable homes will bring relief to many in need – but with 150,000 households on the social housing waiting list, much more is needed.

The Government has also committed to developing a national plan to end homelessness. This plan must touch on all policy areas that impact housing and homelessness and be resourced to deliver meaningful action. People with lived experience of homelessness need to be part of it. This is a real opportunity to shape a future where all of us have a safe home and can thrive. We can't waste it.

Matthew Robins is a program manager at Mission Australia in Hobart.

BEACH WHEELCHAIR PROJECT

in memory of Pip Briggs

We would like to posthumously recognise a beloved staff member who worked with May Shaw for over 6 years, Pip Briggs. Pip tragically died in a car accident on the 6th May 2022. Pip had recently resigned from May Shaw and was moving her family to Campbell Town.

Whilst at May Shaw, Pip was a carer before joining our Leisure & Lifestyle team. Pip was a vibrant, loving, caring and fun member of May Shaw's team. The residents loved her and appreciated the care and focus she had on meeting all their individual needs.

A major focus for Pip had been how to get the residents to the beach. Pip worked tirelessly on applications for beach wheelchairs to be purchased to enable non-ambulant residents to be able to enjoy our beautiful Schouten Beach in Swansea. This proposal included the Glamorgan Spring Bay Council providing a concrete path to enable our staff and residents to gain access to this beach via beach wheelchairs.

To assist with improving beach access in Swansea for disabled and mobility challenged community residents and visitors. We would repurpose an access by concreting a path and putting in rails so there is an area that wheelchairs are able to access Schouten Beach. We would purchase Beach Wheelchairs which will be stored and maintained by May Shaw Health Centre that can be utilised to get beach access, and enjoy the beach for swimming and recreational purposes. An option for visitors and the wider community to utilise these will also be available. Signage will be at the beach with a QR code link to explain how visitors or other community can book the wheelchair and an online booking form.

If you would like to join us in making a difference, please donate via the below QR code link. Thank you in advance for your contribution to this cause that means so much to us.

How can I get COVID-19 treatments?

Step 1:

Make a treatment plan with your GP or health professional before you get sick, in case you test positive.

Step 2:

Take a rapid antigen (RAT) or PCR test at the first sign of symptoms

Step 3:

Report any positive RAT results online or phone the Public Health Hotline on 1800 671 738.

Step 4:

If you test positive, speak to your GP or healthcare provider about any health risk factors and antiviral treatments.
If you don't have a regular GP, contact the COVID@homeplus team

Antiviral treatments reduce the risk of complications
