SALMON EXPANSIONS OK'ED IN DRAFT TASMANIAN SALMON INDUSTRY PLAN

The release of the state government's Tasmanian Salmon Industry Plan today signals an enthusiastic green light for expansions into both state and commonwealth waters.

"The Draft Salmon Plan released today outlines just how far the Tasmanian government is willing to bend over backwards to allow the now multi-national owned salmon companies expand and increase their profits at the expense of the Tasmanian community and pristine public waters." says Rebecca Howarth, Marine Campaigner at Environment Tasmania.

"Not only are offshore Commonwealth Waters up for grabs but State waters too. This is particularly shocking as not long ago the government was keen to reassure the public that the industry would expand no further in state waters. It seems the Tasmanian public have had the wool pulled over their eyes. Expansion by any means possible seems to be the remit, even swapping out zombie leases for new areas of coast."

"Community consultation has been replaced with "outreach" that aims to understand community attitudes. This sounds like an exercise in 'figuring out how to silence the public' rather than actually a genuine consultation of the communities who have connections to Tasmania's coasts. The consultation period is ridiculously short and spanning the Christmas holiday period. We urge the government to extend this period by at least 6 weeks to allow time for thorough engagement of a wide cross-section of the community to be carried out."

"There is no mention of when pens will be removed from inshore fish farms that are "sensitive, sheltered and biodiverse areas" as per Recommendation 3 on the government's own Fin-Fish Inquiry report."

LOCAL LIBERAL MEMBER FOR PROSSER JANE HOWLETT MLC, will again run to represent the people of Prosser at the 2024 Legislative Council election following her reindorsement by the Tasmanian Liberal Party.

Premier of Tasmania Jeremy Rockliff stated that he is absolutely delighted that Ms Howlett has put her hand up to once again represent the People of Prosser at the 2024 Legislative Council election.

"Jane has been a strong voice for the region since her election in 2018 and has been a champion for a number of local issues," Mr Rockliff said.

"Jane's passion and commitment for Prosser is without question and I look forward to continue working with her to ensure the region maintains its strong representation and benefits from a strong local economy," he added.

Ms Howlett said that it is an honour and a privilege to serve the people of Prosser. "I look forward to contesting the 2024 Prosser election where I will be asking for the support of the People of Prosser to continue to be their representative." Ms Howlett said.

SPRING BAY SQUID FESTIVAL.

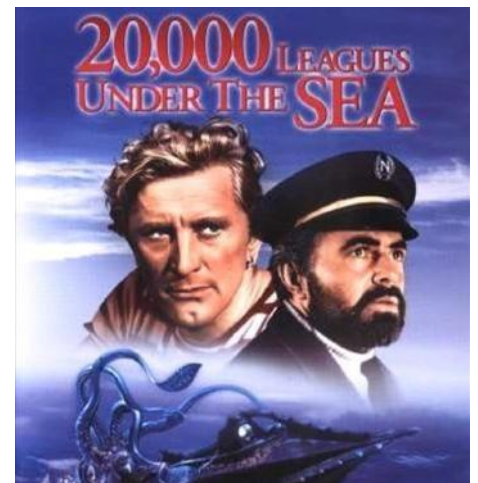

Described as three days of tentacled intrigue.

Starting on Friday 25 Nov. with a good old fashion picture show night and gala food event and finishing with a brunch at the mill on Sunday 27 Nov.

Our intrepid reporter Deb Blundell managed to cover both movie night Friday and food fest Saturday. I joined Deb on Saturday and found the market-style, lay back set up so relaxing with the many kids and mum's and dad's having a ball.

Rob Gaspari

The squid festival is a celebration of ocean ecology and of course Squid. Friday night 25 Nov. there was a Feast in the Amphitheatre at the spring Bay Mill.

At the wharf a classic Disney movie 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea was shown in the community shed.

The Squid Day Out was the main event on Sat. 26 November.

MAYOR ARNOL ABOUT THE COUNCIL MEETING

At its meeting on Tuesday 22nd November, Council dealt with the usual statutory agenda items as well as some excellent questions on notice by a resident of Coles Bay and the Bicheno Community Development Association. There were no planning matters to be dealt as a planning authority. Some highlights from the agenda include -

The proposed schedule of meetings for 2023 were listed and agreed to by an absolute majority which is a statutory requirement. All meetings in 2023 will be held in Triabunna to facilitate the live streaming that has proven very popular via the YouTube platform. Interest has been expressed by some Councillors to return to a quarterly meeting in each major centre to increase the interaction between the community and Council. Throughout 2023 there will be some assessments done by staff around the ease of facilitating live streaming when meeting away from the Triabunna chambers with a view to initiating a change to the meeting schedule in 2024.

An exciting project coming up is the Dog Management Policy Review and the establishment of the Working Group to undertake the community consultation and produce a Dog Management Policy that is consistent with the requirements of the Dog Control Act and meet the needs of the broader community in dog ownership. Look out for the advertisement calling for representatives on the Working Group and lodge an Expression of Interest. Alternatively, engage with the Working Group during the consultation period to capture YOUR thoughts on a new Dog Management Policy.

Staff continue to produce excellent asset management plans that will enable sound decisions to be made on the future funding of our municipal assets and the Bridge Asset Management Plan on the November agenda was no exception.

Are you part of a community group that could do with an injection of funds? Check out Council's Community Small Grant program where grants of up to $1,000 are available for the many worthy projects local community groups undertake. Council was pleased to support two grant applications from Bicheno Bowls Club and the Bicheno Community Church Committee at the last meeting.

Finally the 2022 inducted Councillors have committed to broader community consultation so if you have a matter you would like to raise or discuss then please don't hesitate to make contact. You will reach all of us by mail council@freycinet.tas.gov.au or check out the contact phone numbers on Council's website www.gsbc.tas.gov.au We are elected to represent the whole of the municipal area so are accessible to all regardless of the distance between us.

LOCAL HONEY A WINNER

Swansea bee keepers scored an unexpected win recently. Amateur apiarists Rob Curran and Michael Tyquin were awarded a Silver Medal at the 25th year of the Royal Tasmanian Fine Food Awards for their Dolphin Sands Honey. This event brings many judges from all over Australia - local and interstate.

Their honey was judged second from 200 entrants in the; Extracted Liquid Honey - light amber; category, scoring 100 points for flavour. The pair were delighted with their award, the first year they entered the competition after only three years keeping hives.

Michael Tyquin

The Bureau of Meteorology has released its long-range forecast for the summer season.

It's likely to be wetter than usual along Australia's east coast - particularly coastal New South Wales, most of Victoria, large areas of Queensland, and northern and eastern Tasmania.

In contrast, drier than usual conditions are more likely in large parts of Western Australia.

In eastern Australia, any significant rainfall has the potential to lead to widespread flooding where rivers are already high, dams are full, and catchments are wet.

Above-average rainfall also increases the risk of landslides and tree falls in areas of steep terrain and very wet soils.

This summer there is a high chance that nights will be warmer than usual across the tropical north and in some southern areas including Tasmania.

Summer days are likely to be warmer than average across most of Western Australia and the Northern Territory, north and central Queensland coastal areas and parts of the south including Tasmania.

Cooler days are likely for most of New South Wales, part of southern Queensland and into Victoria.

Bushfires are always a risk in southern Australia in summer. Vegetation growth after above-average rainfall can lead to a risk of grass fires. AFAC will release its Summer Bushfire Outlook on 29 November.

Ocean temperatures around northern Australia are well above average, increasing the risk of tropical cyclones and heavy rain events from systems drawing moisture from the Coral Sea.

This summer there is also an increased risk of:

- prolonged heatwaves with higher humidity in southern areas
- an above average number of tropical cyclones and tropical lows
- coastal flooding in the east and north with unusually high tides forecast around 23 January and 20 February
- marine heatwaves with warmer than average waters around Australia
- thunderstorm asthma events in the south while pollen counts are high in early summer.

A range of climate drivers around Australia are contributing to the wet outlook in the east, including a La Niña in the Pacific Ocean, a positive Southern Annular Mode and warmer ocean waters around Australia.

The negative Indian Ocean Dipole event is weakening and will likely come to an end by early summer, while the La Niña in the Pacific Ocean may start to ease in early 2023.

The program included informative presentations by scientists, biologists and fishing industry experts on Squid and it's sustainability, Sea Kelp, social and cultural history, particularly the East Coast of Tassie.

Sip and Sketch at Spring Bay Studio & Gallery, guided by artists to create your own work, whilst enjoying coffee or a wine and snacks.

In the evening for an 18+ audience The

It was a full program, quirky and fun, and being it's first year in 2022, hopefully there will be others to follow.

Marguerite Carson talks on the habits of the squid

The Kucera Brothers belting out great music on the day

It was a successful day with many visitors and was designed to welcome the whole community.

There was a Puppet Show and puppet making workshop followed by a performance, including the children and the puppets they made - Deep Sea Astronauts.

A variety of musical acts running through the day entertained while the visitors lounged in the comfy arm chairs and bean bags on the grass.

Roving theatre performers - Tip Duck and Squid Squad interacted with the crowd.

Food stalls all day long..... featuring various squid and seafood dishes, pizza, coffee and desserts.

Lots to entertain the kids with The Beaker Street Science Bar as well, and was very interesting.

A welcome to country ceremony..... Indigenous history of the region and a bush tucker experience.

Author Jennifer Mills presented her novel Dyschronia.

Shitshow, an unexpected humorous and bizarre cabaret performance.

The Pretty Things provided music at the Spring Bay Hotel in the evening.

Also Squid Theory, sound and imagery art. An after-dark spectacle on the Triabunna wharf made possible by Big hArt and Triabunna school students.

DOG MANAGEMENT POLICY REVIEW –

SEEKING EXPRESSIONS OF INTEREST FOR THE WORKING GROUP

Every five (5) years Council is required to review its Dog Management Policy under the Dog Control Act 2000. This Policy affects most of our residents in some form or another and ours is now due to be reviewed. The review will specifically focus on:

- A code relating to responsible ownership of dogs
- The provision of declared areas – on / off leash, prohibited and restricted areas.
- A fee structure – for registration and licensing.

And any other relevant matter.

To make sure we get this right Council is creating a working group to assist us. The working group will guide Council with its consultation process, advise on declared dog areas and restrictions and guide the working group on structure of the reviewed policy position. The Terms of Reference of this group can be viewed on the Council website: <https://gsbc.tas.gov.au/dog-management-policy-review/>

We are now seeking expressions of interest (EOI) from members of our community to be a part of this process.

If you have a keen interest and passion for improving responsible dog ownership you can complete the EOI form by scanning the QR code below or request a hard copy from our Customer Service team on (03) 6256 4777.

Expressions of Interests close on Sunday 11 December 2022

Once the working group and Council have a Draft Dog Management Policy we will be going out for community-wide feedback.

ROAD & WEATHER REPORT

ROADWORKS REPORT

FRIDAY, 25th NOV. -
FRIDAY, 09th DEC. 2022

ELEPHANT PASS ROAD GRAY UPDATED

Elephant Pass remains open to all road users with a reduced speed limit and a short section that has been reduced to one lane. Elephant Pass is our recommended detour during the closure of St Marys Pass.

Work on longer term repairs started this week. The repairs include a retaining wall to shore up the cracked section of the road, and repairs to the road surface to keep it in a safe and driveable condition.

We are actively monitoring the road to identify any change in its condition. This monitoring shows that the road is safe for use with the measures we have put in place

ST MARYS PASS ST MARYS UPDATED

St Marys Pass remains closed to all traffic following a landslip and undermining of the road last week.

Construction is underway, with our contractor making good progress on the extensive excavation works required.

It is estimated to be several weeks before the road will be safe to open.

Elephant Pass is open as a detour but is currently reduced to one lane for a 150-metre section under a reduced speed limit.

TASMAN HIGHWAY Acton - Hobart Airport

Constructing a new Hobart Airport Interchange between the Acton Interchange and Hobart Airport roundabout until late 2022.

Reduced speed limit with frequent lane closures between 7:00 am - 6.00 pm.

Please continue to allow extra travel time and follow the directions of signs and traffic controllers.

Visit the Transport website for a detour map and more information.
