BOAT RAMP FIASCO CAUSES ECONOMIC DISASTER FOR SWANSEA.

During a 'normal' summer day upwards of fifty visiting recreational boats would be launched at Swansea. Counts of over 100 being not unusual. Mostly for fishing but some just to enjoy time on the water. Each of these boats and their occupants would conservatively have spent of $200 each in Swansea on Fuel, Refreshments and Food. Those staying overnight considerably more. During our recent cool but calm autumn days, it was to be expected that 10 boats would still be out on the water. What have we seen: one boat with the owner struggling ankle deep in water, 200 metres from the shore with his small boat stuck on the sand.

It is easy to calculate that boating fraternity, both local and visitors, would contribute in excess of $5,000,000 to the local economy over a year ; if they could actually launch boats at Swansea. Maybe that's not a lot. Perhaps 40 direct jobs, 100 people supporting the local services including our fantastic health care team, 20-30 children keeping our school viable: 100 people helping to retain a choice of shopping and catering facilities: 100 people helping to retain local sporting facilities. Shall we go on.

HISTORICALLY: Prior to 1950, boats were in the main, heavy things made of wood. There were two hanging on davits from the jetty: That short piece between the original stone abutments. These could be lowered by hand winch into around 6 ft. of water. There were also a number stored under the 'jetty shed' (the warehouse long gone), from where they could be dragged over a short wooden slipway into the sea. The commercial fishing boats were moored at the end of the 500m long jetty. With the advent of trailer boats in the late 1950's, volunteer workers of the Swansea Tourist & Progress association, under the direction of Doug Lewis, built a concrete ramp beside the jetty abutment. Initially this was fine (provided you could avoid all those pesky boys who persisted in diving/jumping into the sea from the top of bathing shed. It was only 9 metres above water level with over 2 metres of deep water to land in).

But in came the sand.

Over the years since, many attempts have been made to extend concrete ramps at ground level, into deeper water. All these have done is trap more sand. So now we have 200 metres more beach to play on. The latest building of a new ramp on piers was a good idea, to little, to late.

SAND MOVEMENT:

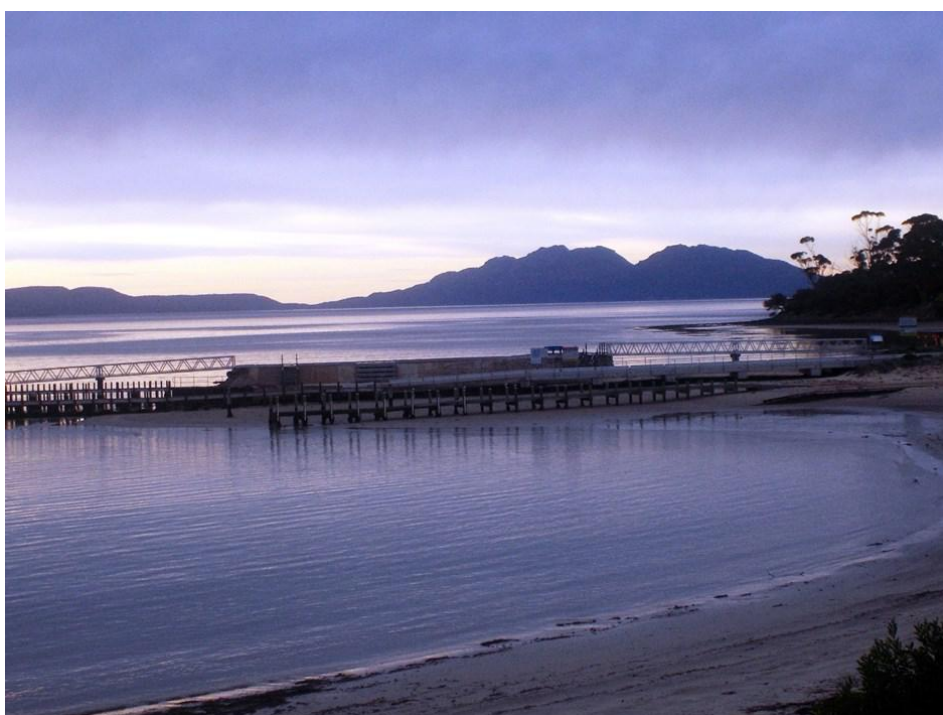

In the 1960's, the Glamorgan Council commissioned a hydrological study and dye tests into current flows in Swansea region of Oyster Bay . The objective being to prove that waste water from the sullage outlet would flow out to sea and not back into the bay. Proved. The study showed that the prevailing current movement came up the bay and on hitting 9 mile beach, split with a flow going East towards the Swan River mouth and another flow swirling West past Jubilee Beach and back into deep water, taking with it the effluent and any drifting sand.

As every practical engineer knows and as has been proven worldwide, to trap sand and build a beach what is needed is a solid structure at right angles to the shore line. Just what the ever expanding solid concrete ramps are. Which is why we now have a nice wide beach and no useable boat launching facility.

SOLUTIONS:

Abandon the existing site and build new launching facilities elsewhere. Gull rock is an obvious although strongly opposed site. It has been there 'for ever', has moderately deep water and some degree of shelter from the prevailing swell. Gordon Street could be substantially improved but needs a breakwater which may result in similar silting problems. If the present site is to be retained, then continued building into deeper water is futile. The only solution is to bring water back by the removal of all the solid structures and promoting water flow under the pier and high level ramp. Perhaps a breakwater, parallel to the land, would in addition to providing sheltered water, promote a tunnelling effect clearing the sand build up ?

VOLUNTEERS WHERE WOULD WE BE WITHOUT THEM?

Well volunteer's week has come and gone (couple of weeks back) and somehow, I forgot to write an article prior to the event.

Well anytime is a great time to acknowledge the backbone of our community our unsung heroes our local community volunteers who unselfishly give their time to their chosen organisation/group or passion.

Everyday our volunteers do amazing work in their chosen field for their community, it may be a few hours, a day every now and then or in a full-time volunteer role. It may be one on one, as a small group or part of a larger organisation.

The statistics are there volunteers do a lot; they save governments heaps and they have the passion and drive to succeed.

From Meals on Wheels, assisting at the local school, the community garden, our dedicated passionate volunteers that keep our sporting groups alive to our emergency services. What ever you do it probably wouldn't get done without volunteers.

Volunteers don't do it for the glory or recognition they do it for the love of the challenge to help those in need to provide a service for their community.

So Please take the time to consider Volunteering in your local community it may be small, but you can make a huge difference.

To those in our communities that have already taken the challenge THANK YOU our communities are better off for your support.

THANK YOU Thank you from a grateful community.

FLU MYTHS

1. MYTH: You can catch the flu from the vaccine.

The flu shot is made from an inactivated virus that cannot transmit infection. So, people who get sick after receiving a flu vaccination were going to get sick anyway. It takes a week or two to get protection from the vaccine.

2. MYTH: Getting the flu vaccination is all you need to do to protect yourself from the flu.

There are several ways to protect yourself. Avoid contact with flu sufferers, wash or sanitise hands frequently.

3. MYTH: You cannot spread the flu if you're feeling well.

20% to 30% of people carrying the influenza virus have no symptoms.

4. MYTH: You do not need to get a flu shot every year.

The influenza virus mutates each year, so getting vaccinated each year is important.

NOT VACCINATED? BOOK YOUR FLU SHOT TODAY WITH THE DOCTORS.

Do not forget to use your Immune Defence  to keep you healthy this winter...

FUNNY

A meat pie walks into a bar and orders a beer. Bartender says "Sorry, we don't serve food here."

What's the best way to burn 1000 calories?
Leave the pizza in the oven.

Why did the invisible man turn down the job offer?
He couldn't see himself doing it.

Did you hear about the man who got hit by the same bike every morning?
It was a vicious cycle.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT :-

Imagine a world without:- WAR

- What would all the men talk about in RSL clubs?
- Where would the pigeons sitting on war monuments go?

The Great Oyster Bay Community News Annual Giving Program is open for 2021.

The Great Oyster Bay Community News is a weekly newsletter which contains items of interest for the Glamorgan-Spring Bay Council area and uses its advertising revenues to finance the printing of the newsletter 50 weeks of the year.

The Great Oyster Bay Community News also uses these revenues to distribute small grants to needy organisations from the Glamorgan-Spring Bay municipality. These small grants are strictly for not-for-profit organisations and are designed to assist these organisations in the purchase of goods and/or services that will benefit the Glamorgan-Spring Bay community.

The grants are normally distributed once a year and applicants are voted for by the SOAC Committee via the application form which is available from the Swansea Online Access Centre or downloaded from the web site:
